Management Training

MRP Concepts & Fundamentals

Excessive obsolescence?

It is a common occurrence in modern industry that whilst companies are striving towards excellence with many modern tools and techniques (Six Sigma, SMED changeovers etc), sudden schedule changes and high obsolescence are still occurring within the business.

Volatile factory loading?

Constant vendor reschedules?

Poorly managed product introductions & retirements?

How long is it since your planning team have undertaken MRP concepts and fundamentals?

Time to go back to basics?

Whilst often perceived as a tool of the 80s, the importance of the concepts cannot be emphasised enough today – with modern ERP systems incorporating traditional MRP mechanics as the backbone of the replenishment logic.

Would your team benefit from a session of refresher training in this area? Sessions are presented in-house at your facility, groups of up to twelve can be accommodated – which may likely include individuals you propose from adjoining functions - for example, manufacturing team leaders, warehouse personnel, technical staff and so on ... in fact all those whose actions have an impact upon your overall supply chain strategy for whom an understanding of the bigger picture will benefit your business.

Training Courses

Sessions are conducted at client site - at client convenience, by an APICS Certified Instructor. Bespoke Supply Chain Management training programmes can be developed to address customer needs. Offerings include :-

MRP - Introductory foundation course

An excellent back to basics / refresher. Provides sufficient grounding to supporting functions to gain an appreciation of the 'bigger picture' in an MRPII/ERP environment - the implications of numerous actions are discussed during the session. A typical course outline can be viewed at <http://www.hilf.co.uk/train01.htm>

MRP - Intermediate

Particularly suited to those currently within, or soon to undertake, a planning role. Ideally as a follow on from the fundamentals course described above though not essential. Refer to <http://www.hilf.co.uk/train02.htm> for a sample course content.

Inventory Management & Forecasting

Whilst the MRP/MRPII courses contain elements of these topics, the subject matter is expanded further with this course. Details contained within <http://www.hilf.co.uk/train03.htm> indicate a selection of topics - some or all of which can be tailored to customer specific course requirements.

Depending upon the client's operating environment, courses will be adapted accordingly to ensure maximised return or their time investment. For example courses for manufacturing companies will include a high dependent demand inventory content (MRP etc) whilst courses for distributors will focus primarily on independent demand replenishment mechanisms (ROP, EOQ etc).

www.hilf.co.uk

Master Planning

The vital interface between the businesses higher level strategic plans and the execution level can also be catered for. Here topics focus on the areas of S&OP (Sales & Operations Planning), and, the Master Scheduling process - the output of which is the MPS (Master Production Schedule). Available-to-Promise (ATP) logic, capacity validation and various plan execution strategies will be overviewed.

CPIM Modules

The internationally recognised certification programme from APICS can be delivered to your team as a series of in-house facilitated modules in preparation for the APICS examinations. We do occasionally run CPIM and CSCP training as open / public courses, usually in the Midlands. Hilf Supply Chain Solutions Ltd is an APICS Premier International Partner and was the first company in the UK to be recognised by APICS as an "AEP" (Authorised Education Provider). Refer to our website for further information :-

For CPIM part 1 (previously known as basics of Supply Chain Management), either <http://www.hilf.co.uk/training-courses/course-detail.php?courseID=6> or <http://www.apics.training/cpim-part-1>

For CPIM part 2 (previously MPR, DSP, ECO, SMR), either <http://www.hilf.co.uk/training-courses/course-detail.php?courseID=7> or <http://www.apics.training/cpim-part-2>

The Planner / Buyer

This course tackles the issues and dilemmas associated with the activities of the converged role of the buyer / expeditor and the materials planner which has become widespread in recent years. Along with MRP concepts, areas covered include discussions on Total Acquisition Cost, use of Corporate Purchasing Cards, etc (refer to <http://www.hilf.co.uk/train04.htm> for sample course content options).

Not a traditional Purchasing Course per se, for example, areas such as 'Contract Management & Negotiation', and 'legal aspects', are not included (an in-depth Procurement course such as those offered by CIPS is recommended for such areas).

An introductory course which will also be beneficial to Vendor Schedulers, and Quality personnel who have moved into a Supplier QA role.

Financial Aspects of Material Planning

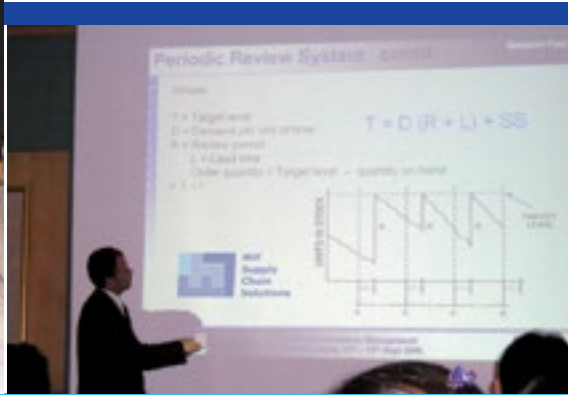

Aimed at non accountants, developed particularly for material control / production planning team members and manufacturing supervisors, this half day course is delivered from an 'operations' viewpoint. Course content includes stock turns, inventory holding costs (including the implications for 'dead stock' and 'slow moving stock'), the benefits of low inventory in a deflationary industry, Backflushing, quantity discount problems etc. (refer to <http://www.hilf.co.uk/train09.htm>)

Throughout the training sessions relevant anecdotes will be included wherever possible. A library of short case studies is also available for inclusion where specific supply chain issues and strategies are being discussed.

Examples of Past Feedback

"Following the sessions, feedback has been very positive, professionally presented and pitched at the ideal level for all involved. The examples used during the session were both relevant and thought provoking, a number of valuable issues have been highlighted to us. In short, as a direct consequence of this programme, we believe our teams will perform at a higher standard and reach our business excellence goals at an accelerated pace."

Purchasing Manager, Bergstrom (Europe) Ltd

"I learned a lot from your session especially about VMI and SCM. It was really a good chance for me to go through the basics of the whole logistics mechanism."

Business Planning Team Member, Pantos Logistics, Korea

"The feedback from these sessions was that Lindsay had a thorough understanding of the course content, and was able to articulate this to the students. The sessions were also well prepared and delivered in a very professional manner. Added to this it is clear that Lindsay is passionate about Operations and this clearly comes through in his delivery."

Head of Global Operations, Mitel Networks

"We have been impressed by the approach and teaching methods used by Hilf Supply Chain Solutions to deliver the APICS syllabus to a cross functional team, with varying levels of experience. The help and support you have provided to the candidates has been invaluable in preparation for the recent examinations. In particular your willingness to spend time with individuals to improve their understanding of topics covered was greatly appreciated. Your flexible approach to accommodate the needs of our business has ensured that everybody involved had a relaxed learning environment."

HR Manager, SC Johnson

"Very good speaker and clear explanation on issues raised and with wide experiences."

Supply Chain Executive, Sarawak Shell Berhad, Malaysia

"I am writing to give a word of appreciation on helping me in developing some basic and strategic thinking on supply chain management. The course you taught was useful and the pace we kept was aligned to maintain my schedule. I will recommend you to others."

"It was a great presentation and learning experience, and it made me think a lot to transform and continue to improve China HP service part supply chain operation."

Manager of Field Logistics & Materials (Global Delivery, TSG Services), Hewlett-Packard, China

"I found Lindsay to be very helpful whilst we were planning the courses, he gave me valuable advice before putting a programme together and the course materials were informative and professionally presented."

Human Resources Manager, Draka Wire Products

"The event as a whole is very exciting."

Sales Assistant / Inventory Officer, Altana Pharma, Philippines

"Very good knowledge and practical experience. Thanks for the useful key learnings, I will use to share to my team. I really enjoyed and appreciated the knowledge transferred during this training, hope you will do some training on other Supply Chain topics in Thailand."

Senior Supply Manager, Boots Retail (Thailand) Ltd

"It was my great pleasure to attend such valuable session with a professional instructor."

Logistics & Supply Chain Manager, ABB (Saudi Arabia)

"I found the course very interesting and well presented."

Customer Service Planner, Eurobond Laminates

"I just thought I would let you know that I passed the Basics and MPR APICS exams. So I now have done all 5 modules. Thanks for your help with them."

ERP Implementation Consultant, DSP Solutions / Oriflame

"Thank you for the insightful speech that you gave us on our Effective Logistics and inventory management conference. I believe your lecture was an eye opener for most of our delegates. Our delegates were especially intrigued by the information you presented on the case study of diverse companies. I am grateful that you have taken the time to prepare a fabulous lecture for us."

Conference Manager, Marcus Evans, Korea

"Explained points clearly and in simple language for all to understand."

Prod Planning & Control Manager, Reed Hycalog (Singapore)

"The whole event is full of information, reminds me of the techniques that should be and regularly done to keep the inventory level, This allows me to validate inventory techniques already in place. I really enjoyed the training. I gained a lot of tips on inventory management... Thanks for the knowledge you've shared to us."

Senior Product Controller, Continental-Temic Automotive Systems (Philippines)

"Keep this training style going – full of useful information."
